Adopted by the Board in November 2021
Good evening, Chair Randall, Supervisor Buffington, and all Board members.

My name is Alana Boyajian. I am the Blue Ridge District Representative on the Library Board of Trustees (LBOT).

I am here today in response to Legislative Staff Report and Recommendation to request the Board of Supervisors (Board) NOT seek legislation that amends Section 42.1-36 of the Code of Virginia.

This would add Loudoun to the list of Counties where formation, creation, or continued existence of a library board is not mandatory and would allow the County to make the LBOT an advisory board. I urge you NOT to support this language.

Instead, as the LBOT unanimously voted, I ask you to move for an alternative legislative agenda to amend Virginia Code Section 40.1-57.2 (Collective Bargaining), to specifically include language referencing governing library boards among those entities that may collectively bargain with employees.

• While there may be operational impacts in either case, the LBOT and Board can absolutely work together to accomplish common goals with respect to Collective Bargaining and any conflicts that may arise.

• Having both a governing library board and offering collective bargaining is not mutually exclusive as it has been successfully achieved throughout many jurisdictions around the nation.

The citizens of Loudoun County deserve to retain the benefits of the LBOT as a governing board.

• The current structure works. We have an award-winning library system that supports the myriad needs of our diverse community. LBOT as an advisory board could have devastating and far-reaching impacts to our citizens and community.

• LBOT as an advisory board would politicize our system and limit the pursuit of intellectual freedom.

• There may be negative building use impacts for Middleburg, Rust, and the Law Library.

• Both American and Virginia Library Associations have expressed written support of LCPL and caution against shifting the LBOT into an advisory capacity.

• A few library systems specifically requested an exemption as it was the best way to serve the community. Loudoun is best served with a governing LBOT.

Again, please do not move to shift the LBOT to an advisory Board.

Thank you.

Good evening my name is Christina Olorunda and I am the Chair of the Library Board of Trustees. I am here today on behalf of LBOT to present our unanimously approved recommendation - the motion reads as follows:

“I move that the Library Board of Trustees request the Board of Supervisors to seek an alternative legislative agenda that amends Virginia Code Section 40.1-57.2 (Collective Bargaining), to include governing library boards among those entities that may collectively bargain with employees, together with such additional amendments, if any, as are necessary to enable a governing library board to utilize joint collective bargaining efforts with the governing body of a locality.”

This alternative method is a win-win for all parties involved. In particular to the 250 library staff and to the 420,000 residents of Loudoun County. This alternative method creates a path for library staff to be eligible to collectively bargain, if they so desire, while at the same time upholding the integrity of a library system that is governed by a body of volunteer citizens, free of political influences and agendas.

Given that collective bargaining is new in Virginia, County staff has outline a number of questions and what if’s in its report. The County of Fairfax and the City of Alexandria, who both have governing library boards have been able to work through these types of questions and what if’s, they have demonstrated their care for their citizens and library staff by working collaboratively on solutions to these questions.

- Solutions that don’t put library staff’s health care, salaries and other benefits in jeopardy.

- Solutions that don’t put library facilities at risk of being used for non library purposes or it’s programs and materials at risk of political agendas and potential banning

My question to this Board is - “What will it be for Loudoun’s library system, a nationally recognized system most recently named runner up for Library of the Year? Will this Board & LBOT, much like collective bargaining, come together, set aside any differences and work towards a win-win solution for library staff and Loudoun residents? We are willing to continue our 50 year harmonious and collaborative working relationship, are you?”
